

Christine Lockhart

May 20, 1954 - February 24, 2023

Christine Lockhart was born on May 20, 1954, to the late Robert Lee White and Connie Mae Curry White in Winston-Salem, NC. On February 24, 2023, she received her wings and went home to be with the Lord.

Christine Lockhart completed school in the Winston-Salem Forsyth County school system and worked over thirty-five years as an educator impacting the lives of young scholars. She was a faithful member of Greater St. Matthew Baptist Church until her health declined. She was preceded in death by her parents, Robert Lee White and Connie Mae Curry White; grandparents, James and Matilda Curry; son, Kedrick White; nephew, Tommy Curry; niece, Cynthia White Martin; and best friend, Carsandra Koger.

She leaves to cherish her precious memory: her children, Tyrone (Joyce) White; devoted daughter, Kendra Lockhart; twenty-five grandchildren, including her caretaker and devoted granddaughter, Quashawn Wright and fiancé, Mashod Covington; eight great-grandchildren; daughter-in-law, Twonda White; and a host of nieces and nephews. Christine was a firm believer of the word. She loved to sing and wouldn't hesitate to begin a song at any occasion. She announced her faith daily. She often started by saying that God would heal her whether it be on this side or in heaven. Through out her battle with cancer she remained steadfast and optimistic. When doctors would bring their report, she would smile and say, "God got me," with her thumbs up. She was a true diva till the end. She loved to dress, shop, and hit the highway with her big sister, Frances, riding shotgun. Her singing, sense of humor, testimonies, and love for her family will truly remain in our hearts until we meet again. Life
