

Gregory Lee Irby

August 26, 1960 - April 24, 2020

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Hi Elmerette, I'll always remember that Greg and I shared the same Birthday (August 26) every year. He was always pleasant and polite to me. I can recall when his mother passed, some of our officers and other members (I was included) drove to Asheville to attend her services.

Around ten years ago I was taken to Baptist Hospital from a Special Prayer Service we had one evening at church. While in the hospital for two days, Greg came to visit me the day I was released. I'm thinking he was at church or had heard that I was in BH. He thought that he would come over and see how I was doing. Your hubby helped make that day a blessed one.

TO A KIND, DEVOTED AND LOVING WIFE.....

Jeannette Porter

Jeannette Porter - April 30, 2020 at 05:06 PM

“ I remember when we went to Raleigh, NC for a conference, Greg and I went down the hall talking during break . Greg went to the rest room, I waited on him when he came out of the rest room we started down the hall. Greg stopped in his tracks turned around and ran back down the hall. When he came back I asked him what happened he said my wife will hurt me if I leave my ring somewhere. I left my ring on the sink of the men's bathroom. That was the high of the day. Love Tina

Justina Garrett - April 30, 2020 at 01:33 PM

FC

Blessings upon you Elmerette as you endure during this difficult time and to God be the glory for all the love you and your hubby shared. Keeping you and your family in my thoughts and prayers, trusting that grace be to you and peace from God our Heavenly Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ. as you celebrate the Homegoing of your loved one today. I hope it helps for you to know others share in your sorrow and wishing you the strength you need to face each new tomorrow...

*With My Deepest Sympathy,
Faye Cain Carter*

Faye Cain Carter - May 02, 2020 at 09:43 AM